

BRIDGE

meetings (day and time yet to be sufficient demand. decided) will be held at the If you are interested in joining convenor's house or space and tables etc.

You need to know how to play enquiries@u3a.dawlish.info bridge to start as soon as the group is set up, but if you are keen to learn to play, please do A new friendly social bridge group let us know so we can look into is just starting. Initially, weekly finding a bridge teacher if there is other the group or learning to play members' homes if they have bridge, please contact Natalie Brophy

DARTMOOR EXPLORE MEETING

Hello Everyone,

arranged. As convenor, I felt that the meeting on the 5th. I should sort out the first one so Linda Studley my plan is to visit the WW2 rifle range.

Thereafter, I hope that everyone Hope you are all well and looking will want to participate and help forward to our first meeting at choose and plan further visits to 12.30 pm on Tuesday 5th April at some of the lovely and very the Strand Centre; this is where interesting or historical sites we will put a few ideas in place available to us. Please let me and hopefully get our first trip know if you are not able to attend

The PAINTING AND DRAWING GROUP will be meeting on Monday 11th April at 11am but not on the following Monday 18th April as it is Easter Sunday.

Kim Walker

Happy Easter and Happy Holidays to everyone!

FROM THE CHAIR

It is an interview with Eric Midwinter, vision of 1982 was 'self-help': the u3a one of the founders of the u3a in 1982, should be an organisation which is run marking the movement's 40^{th} by members for each other, where we anniversary. His range of interests as a learn from each other, share our historian and writer include the history experiences and skills, and we all seek of education, cricket (especially to play an active part in whatever way Lancashire CCC), comedians and, of we can, to sustain and enrich the course, matters associated with movement. This is such an important 'ageing'. He also found time to be one message. the founders of the Consumer Council, and to serve on a founders' ethos being lived out in many wide range of bodies promoting the areas of our u3a lives in Dawlish. Our interests of older people, consumers members actively participate in interest and of learners of all ages.

perceptions of 'age' and the place of great lives and others. The March older people in society were startlingly meeting of the Art Appreciation Group different from today. The work of Eric saw about a dozen of us each choose a and others has done much to transform painting on the theme of 'Food' and talk attitudes towards those no longer in full about our choice for 5-10 minutes. dismissed as being 'past it' and a It really was a treat to listen to 'burden' on society. This applies not everyone's personal responses to the just to the perceptions of younger paintings, share their knowledge and be people but to the attitudes of those impressed and surprised by themselves who have already reached insights. Just as important was the 'the Third Age'. Instead of being put out ability to admit to lack of knowledge to grass, Eric Midwinter was (and without any embarrassment, and then remains) evangelical about the value of seize the opportunity to learn more. It older people to society and also that the was a refreshing and enjoyable way to Third Age is a phase of life to be learn, find something new to enjoy and embraced and relished as a time to have fun at the same time. It was the enjoy being active, to contribute and to u3a at its best. sense.

sound a note of caution. He fears that what you can do for your country.' some aspects of the original ethos of John Vick, Chair the u3a is being lost, and that there is a If you haven't already read danger that some members regard the it, can I recommend an u3a as a 'service organisation' where excellent article in the the membership fee is a means to 'buy' February edition of Third a service without having to put much Age Matters, the magazine back in return. For Eric Midwinter, and I you receive from the Third Age Trust? know for many of us, a vital part of the National Eric would be pleased to see that the groups such as natural history, book in the 1970s and 1980s, groups, wine appreciation, painting, employment who were often Experts and novices were all welcome.

continue learning - in the broadest It is afternoons like that which made me want to join the u3a and to continue to With his perspective of 40 years of do what I can to help it flourish into the engagement with the movement, he is future. I know other members feel the able to appreciate the way our society same. I could paraphrase President has changed and how the u3a has John F Kennedy in 1961 but I will leave developed. His pride in what is being his original words as they are: 'Ask not done is obvious. He does, however, what your country can do for you, ask untrue.

VIKINGS IN THE WEST COUNTRY

Derek Gore from the University of Exe- their journey back to their homeland. ter gave us an interesting insight into Evidence of Viking Settlements the Viking Invasion from as early as the Throughout these ages, many Vikings first Viking age during 789 – 924.

In 836 it is recorded that King Egbert became Christians. Evidence of this can fought 35 ship loads at Carhampton but be seen in churchyards with their dissadly lost many of his soldiers to the tinctive stone carvings in the monu-Vikings who were eventually defeated ments and withdrew. Why Carhampton? We to silver which was easily melted down possible Settlement they had no scales to assist them.

in the English Annals.

and lasted up to the Battle of Hastings. navian style. England.

In all, three quarters of England were couple. successfully infiltrated by the Vikings, but King Alfred the Great saved the day by holding strong with Wessex. He was succeeded by his son King Edward the Elder who posted lookouts along the coastline of the Bristol Channel to evade any further invasions.

In 1001 the invaders attacked Teignton (now known as Kingsteignton) but it is recorded that peace was then made, probably due to being bought off by

MONTHLY MEETING REPORT: THE vast quantities of coins and silver, and they set sail back to Scandinavia. Inter-It seems a common misconception that estingly, they sailed past Dawlish which the Vikings did not get down to Devon clearly did not hold much attraction to and Cornwall much but clearly that is the Vikings. Exeter had less luck and the Vikings did land and ransacked the At our monthly meeting on 21st March, entire settlement before continuing on did choose to settle across England and learnt that the Vikings invaded places In North Yorkshire and Cumbria there that were known to have great wealth are what are referred to as Hogback i.e. Monasteries, Royal Residences etc. Stones which are stone sculptures The Vikings were only interested in found in churchyards. There are differportable wealth they could take back on ent styles found in Cornwall which sugtheir ships and were particularly drawn gest the Scandinavian influence and and made into jewellery. Leaders would Closer to home, in Copplestone, near share the spoils of war with their sol- Crediton, there is a stone monument diers as payment. This wasn't always a believed to be of the Viking period and fair means of distributing the gains as once again showing evidence of the Scandinavian period.

The second invasion recorded was at a Items of jewellery discovered from Arplace called Wicganbeorg which some chaeological Digs include rings, amubelieve could be Weekaborough in the lets, jewellery cases and book- covers district of Torbay. Did the Vikings land all with the intricate Viking design. Even at Torquay? To date there has been no a gold armlet obviously dropped by a archaeological evidence of a battle in Viking. The horses were not ignored eithat area. Both invasions were recorded ther, several interesting pieces believed to be part of a horse harness have also The second Viking Age was 980 to 1069 been found once again with the Scandi-

Led by the Kings of Denmark and Nor- Not forgetting placenames associated way they were keen to become Kings of with this period - Sleep Isles now Isles of Scilly, or Lundy Isle, to name but a

(Cont.)

In summary by the end of the 2nd Vi- woman called Elsigar purchased a Corwere prominent in Devon.

Finally, a heart-warming story from the them their freedom. Bodmin Gospel Book, which is believed A worthy subject worth exploring more to be the oldest book written in the Cor- and our thanks to the excellent speaker. nish language. It is also the oldest rec- Kate McCarthy, Committee ord of slavery in Anglo Saxon Britain, A king Age, Scandinavian Landowners nish female slave and her son from a Scandinavian and immediately

Park!

very muddy path we didn't really recog- near Cofton Holiday Park/ Cofton Monise; thankfully Michael led us on via a tors. different route and soon we were back Our April 14th D&D U3A Strollers walk to where we should have been ...after will be a mystery adventure ... a new we'd navigated a lot of mud!

train and 3 by car plus we had apolo- bus gies from another 9 who were unable to 12.10pm and Dawlish at 12.25 pm. join us ... weather was good ... walk We will be getting off the bus at Cofton by all thankfully .

Our March 10th walk was mostly on the flat ...we hoped that some of the other 20+ registered Strollers might join us and destination them 🤔 .

There were just 6 of us including David Jean Gitsham, Convener

Our STROLLERS walk in a new walker on our March Strollers February almost became walk ... we had sunny weather for our D&D u3a Adventure group stroll from Sainsbury's ,alongside the 2 when we lost the in- stream to Dawlish Warren then via foottended track in Decoy paths to Cockwood ... after a refreshment break at The Ship we enjoyed a We found ourselves on a stroll down the lane to the bus stop walk route for most of us.

There were 9 of us ...6 arrived on the We are catching the number 2 Exeter which leaves Teignmouth strenuous in places but fun and enjoyed Motors and then Michael will be leading us down the public footpath near the garage ...he has done this walk before so at least one of us knows the route as the spring weather improved...so Please do come prepared by wearing chose a less strenuous walk to tempt suitable footwear for tarmac, grass and possibly muddy footpaths

PHILOSOPHY AND PSYCHOLOGY

member to our fledgeling group in make a list of relevant questions based March and look forward to including on what we have read or on our life exnew people. We met in a small group at perience. Have we ourselves noticed the Swan on the 18th and discussed op- any personal moral development or notions for the future. For now, we shall ticed it in others? When was it shaped focus on values and trust as defining and what by? Do we still have moral dihuman consciousness. We suggested lemmas in our everyday life? etc. We Friday the 22nd of April, same place, are looking forward to an interesting exsame time, to discuss Moral Develop- change. ment. As a tentative future topic, we Dana Dima, Convener chose The Value of Life. We will try to read up on this and bring back interesting ideas about various aspects of the We were very happy to welcome a new current topic. We suggest that we each when she moves away.

PAGE TURNERS

Light we Cannot See' by Anthony say, it is worth to look at Logan's Doerr. This winner of the 2015 Pulitzer other books as they all Prize for Fiction follows the stories of a intriguing. So, all in all an interesting young blind French girl and a German read and not much violence. Not boy growing up in the Second World perfect, but for a thriller I would say War. Events in the story led us to pretty good. parallels with unfolding in Europe now and gave us help a stranger. She agrees to hold a some interesting discussion.

disruptive.

book was very well researched and hastily on a piece of paper asking her gave a moving view of the times and to protect the baby and to trust nothe lives of the characters. There were one, including the police. We were vivid descriptions in the book which intrigued when moved us greatly although the writer introduced to us and looking forward avoids describing some of the most to our first thriller. The book was violent incidents in detail.

to explore in this way and look the same author. forward to the variety to come.

On 31st March, after a last-minute Reading List' by Sara Nisha Adams change of venue caused by the illness and this will be followed by 'The Red of the planned hostess, the Page Tent' by Anita Diamant in May and Turners met to discuss 'Trust Me' by T 'The New Neighbours' by Diney M Logan and were pleased to welcome Costeloe in June. another new member.

I admit that I hadn't read the book At the Page Turners recent from the beginning to the end, but I meeting we were pleased to got the plot and all characters and welcome one new member actually I could contribute a lot. We but also saddened to hear quite liked it (although Susan found it that another friend will be leaving us a little bit fantastical and highly improbable) and even if I am not into The book for discussion was 'All the the thrillers at the present, I would the events The book begins with Ellen trying to baby for a flustered young mother One member did not enjoy the subject sitting opposite her on the train while matter of the book and chose not to the woman makes an urgent call. finish it but the majority enjoyed it, Then the train pulls into a station and although some found it over-long. Ellen is stunned to see the woman Some favoured the structure of very step off the train and rush away down short chapters while others found this the platform, leaving her baby behind. She discovers a note in the baby's The general consensus was that the bag, three desperate lines scrawled the book gripping from the beginning and most This book was recommended by a who read it enjoyed following the member who rates it as one of her all-twists and turns of the plot although time favourites but, as with previous some found it a little confusing and reads, some members would not have too improbable. We won't give away considered reading it if it were not for any spoilers but will say that we are the group. We value the opportunity encouraged to look for more books by Next month we will be reading 'The

Deborah Wallis

The BOULES Group, which has been meeting inside over the winter months, will be playing on the Lawn again from April, on Friday 8th and Wednesday 27th, subject to the weather. Contact the convenor, Michael Heyden, for further details.

DISCUSSION GROUP

having had to cancel the previous obvious choice. The current license \checkmark meeting with members otherwise fee is criticised to being subject to engaged over half term. We had a government pressure so far as the good turnout this time, welcomed level of the fee is concerned, but Mike Collins as a potential new other options often have the similar 🖌 member and Catherine who hasn't flaws. been able to attend for a while. We The BBC was described, memorably, carried forward the topic of how to as being relentlessly middleclass, 📞 fund the BBC, something we decided like Waitrose, by one member. This 🦨 on before Nadine Dorris' widely led to an interesting, if not totally reported comments on the topic. pertinent discussion as to whether There was a lively exchange of views the and lots of interesting contributions. The BBC has a royal charter to in society. We further diverted provide a service and this is due to ourselves with a brief consideration expire on 31^{st} December 2027. The of state broadcasting of the current 👠 government has promised that until war in Ukraine by Russian and 🌶 that date all monies raised from the Ukrainian sources. Russian reports license fee will be handed to the were BBC, £3.75 billion in 2020/21.

Public service broadcasting, including understandably have a propaganda 🧈 ITV, and Channels 4 and 5 as well as element. had Service an who, how, and entertainment, and sport coverage should be chosen what. broadcasting remit.

🕨 We talked of various options which elsewhere, and particular mention 🗸 might be available to replace in was made of the World Service. After whole or part the license fee, for considering example an addition to council tax options there was no consensus on would (all pay, households more), general taxation retired, ex (as in Ireland and the Netherlands, deliberations. where complaints of government It was decided to discuss trans made), control are (which would compete with ITV), is already stressed. taxing media giants such as Netflix Michael Heyden, Convenor and Disney , and making the BBC a \checkmark subscription service. We didn't seek The Discussion to reach any conclusions, and no Group met on Monday 14th March, solution presented itself as an > middle or working classes provided the driving force for change \checkmark clearly false, but some Ukrainian reports could the BBC, was generally agreed to be The area of sports broadcasting was necessary. The BBC, the focus of our given a good airing; there were a meeting, was felt to be a particularly large number of important occasions 🦫 trustworthy source of news, and in many different sports, not all of through TV, its internet presence which could be covered by free to air and radio, including the World broadcasters, and how those to be \checkmark unparalleled broadcast were picked was talked coverage. There was less agreement about. Some consideration was given the to the sums paid to presenters, but education, culture less agreement on who was worth \checkmark by, to complete the public service BBC Radio was generally admired, the variety being unavailable possible 7 fundina but wealthier the best one, and the members \checkmark exhausted by their advertising issues next time, and the convenor

THE QUIZ GROUP

General Isle and All about Wales. Now how many times did you toss your pancakes this year and were you anywhere near the world record? The most tosses of a pancake in one minute is 140 and was achieved by Brad Jolly (Australia) on 21 February 2012.

We also had questions on 'pulling your leg'. Again, how about going for a world record and beating the three-legged race longest distance ever run in 24 hours. Presently it is set at 68.23 miles and was achieved on 7th–8th September 2013. So how about having a go at beating these two records. Any takers? In other rounds questions were set on Valentine's Day, Stones, Scissors and Paper, Orange, Prince Andrew,

Sundays, Absolute Classics, Historical Knowledge and Modern slang. Talking about slang, questions, the last four quizzes have in the mid-19th century sausages were included specific rounds on special referred to as 'Bags o'mystery'. We still dates i.e. Pancake Day, The Emerald wonder what ingredients are put in > them... Other recent subjects were 'The name of the game', 'All in the past', 'Number crunching' and 'Body language'.

> Last Monday the quizzers tackled subjects on 'A sporting chance', That's entertainment, Which decade, Chrises Fruity novels! So can remember when Blue Peter was first broadcast or when the UK parliament first approved old age pensions or would you prefer to know about the fruity novels?

> The quizzes for April are planned for Mondays 4th and 18th; we look forward to racking our brains.

Graham Carey, Convener

IN OUR OWN WRITE

gies. However, the remaining at a railway station.

cussing the stories compiled about be- thought that I'd see him again but...' ing stranded with a group of strangers. Travina White Convener We had a storm cutting off an assortment of people near a beach; a midwife Our small but perfectly formed being to hand when a pregnant lady writing group was even smaller was stranded at a ferry terminal in a on this occasion with two apolo- blizzard, and a group of strangers stuck three budding writers spent an Our next meeting will be on Monday entertaining couple of hours dis- $11^{\rm th}$ April and our topic will be "I never

ART APPRECIATION

to talk about a work of art Cook's bizarre – but popular – in a suburban garden. choice was showing human faces constructed out session. I hope he enjoyed the session of fruit and vegetables. We also had a and will come again to our next number of still lives by Caravaggio, meeting. Unfortunately, the April Cézanne, and Jan Davidsz de Heem, a meeting is cancelled and we will Dining Room Overlooking a Garden by next meet on Tuesday 10th May. Bonnard, A Fisher Girl by Elizabeth The subject will be Marc Chagall who Vermeer's Milkmaid, Hopper's Tables for Ladies where the and beautiful art of the last century. display of fruit was almost incidental to Lynne Vick, Convener the main subject of the painting. At the March meeting of our painting of luncheon in Monet's garden group members responded at Argenteuil was a delightful contrast creatively to the invitation with another al fresco meal - Beryl Garden which Tea in the of their choosing on the featured very respectable but entirely theme of 'Food'. The most naked figures seated around a tea table

Arcimboldo's We were pleased to welcome a member extraordinary Four Seasons who joined the group for a taster and produced some of the most intriguing who, having lost their farm and home, once again, restore Moth's failing health walked the South-West Path, camping and lift their spirits. wild and surviving on £48 a week.

LITERATURE

The Wild nor Winn The

through this vigorous exercise and, less and poverty.

became rather reclusive, but Moth, de- if there will be a third instalment. spite his condition, successfully com- We gave this book 4 out of 5. pleted a degree course.

Raynor's mother's death caused her to Liane Goulding, Convenor reflect on her early life and how she met Si- and married Moth, despite her parents' lence by Ray- disapproval. (We do not know if they came to terms with the relationship).

This is a sequel Raynor realised that Moth was losing Salt precious memories of their long walk Path which half together, so she wrote The Salt Path for group his benefit, but the book was published had read. The and was a great success.

first book told They were offered a run-down farm to the true story renovate and decided to undertake anof Raynor Winn and her husband Moth other arduous walk in Iceland hoping to,

Our group found that reading the first Moth had been diagnosed with cortico- book as well as this one helped to form basal degeneration, which is incurable. a fuller picture of this couple though Their decision, though allowing that some of us thought The Wild Silence options were limited, seemed was not as engaging as The Salt Path counterintuitive and against medical ad- which dealt with familiar territory of the vice. Astonishingly, his health improved South-West and raised issues of home-

Raynor suggested, the healing power of We thought the writing was good and most found their story involving. We The Wild Silence began with the couple were left caring about what happens renting a flat in Polruan where Raynor next to Raynor and Moth and wondered

♥ EDITOR'S CORNER

This issue of the Newsletter is a little late in coming, but we hope it compensates with substance... We have received exciting articles from most groups and some new group suggestions and I'm sure we will all look forward to hear W more from them. We are also happy to learn that more members have joined \mathscr{U} the existing groups and take this opportunity to welcome them yet again.

Dana Dima

🁺 TEA AND CHAT A lively group with interesting conversations. We meet on 🛎 the third Thursday of the month. Our next meeting is Thursday 21st April 2 -4pm at the Riverside, which is the blue building next to The Manor House. Why not come along and meet other members? All members are most welcome and, new members or those of you who do not know many others and would like some company are encouraged to join us.

Michael Heyden & Kate McCarthy, Co Conveners

Climbing Centre in Exeter. We had a West shoot-out! go at several climbing walls and even tried bouldering, for which you don't wear a harness - scary stuff! You can see some photos of our efforts on the website here: https://u3a.dawlish.info/ adventure-group-climbing-photos.

Some of our members have also been target shooting at Crackshot in Newton Despite the decimation of Miggie Pickton, Convener Abbot. group members due to illness, 16 of us still managed to go shooting; trying our hand at air rifles, air pistols and a shooting simulator.

It transpired that some members of the group had a lot of talent at this In the first session, the activity. winning team of Barry, Kerry, Margaret demonstrated and Pete supremacy on the simulator's shooting range, moving targets and virtual clay pigeons. The second group's men's George, John team (Dave, Richard) completely thrashed the

In early March the ADVENTURE women by getting near perfect scores 🕏 GROUP donned harnesses and fancy in the rifle shooting. Fortunately the 🔯 footwear to scale the heights at Quay women got their own back in the Wild 🞇

> We are now looking forward to our next activity, Segwaying, at the end of As ever, full details of this April. the s adventure can be found on website:

https://u3a.dawlish.info/adventuregroup-segwaying

Dave, George, Richard and John: the expert riflemen

day"

in the sun...sunbathing is a no-no and whatever what might it be?" Contribuso we like a mixture of things... relaxa-tions included learning the piano or a P tion, visiting museums and art galler- musical instrument, training to sing, the damage it caused. A couple in our how to ride a bike, to ski and DIY. It group don't like zoom but we also was rather sad to hear some of the have some who are uncomfortable regrets! meeting indoors so we have zoomed! The next meeting is in April which At the first meeting this month we should be face to face. each talked about a favourite book or Bridie Cushion, Convener

The FRENCH group has reverted to film or TV series. Offerings included 🙎 zoom because of the recent rise in in- Hamnet, Where the Crawdads Sing, fections. We met March the film "Heat of the Night", the Rich-3rd where the subject ard Osmond book "The Thursday Murwas "What sort of holi- der Club" and "Keeping up with the P day do you like and what Aristocrats". At the second, the topic § do you like to do on holi- was "if you could go back and learn 🙎 something that you now wish you had I think a few of us no longer like to sit learned, such as a sport, a skill, or o ies. learning and speaking more lan-We talked a bit about the storms and guages, learning economics, learning THEATRE We meet on months on the first Thursday of the sit back and enjoy an evening's month. Our next meeting is on entertainment. Thursday 7th April 2 – 4pm in room 4b Our next production to be enjoyed by at The Manor House.

were I, Elizabeth at the Wednesday evening at 7.30pm. Pavilions Teignmouth. Performed by a Future productions: Take a Chance on single Actor it was a powerful and soul Us. Anyone fancy seeing Abba Tribute production. Based diaries and letters it gave the audience April? Open to all members, let me an insight into the turmoil Queen know so that I can put you in touch Elizabeth 1 suffered and the risk she with other members who have already took in choosing not to marry and the purchased their ticket and would like uncertainty around a future heir.

the the group was to If the Both memorable. We all agreed the more fun. exceptional and were professional way they changed into Convener their various roles was seamless. What wonderful Theatre this is! audience seemed to consist of more members of our u3a than anyone else! A perfect evening for many of us with a short stroll across the Lawn to the alternate Theatre, a refreshing drink and then this group is a trip to the Pavilions, Productions enjoyed by members this Teignmouth to see Mary Rose on > on Band at the Shaftsbury Saturday 16th the company.

Our next trip to 4 members have tickets to see Chicago Theatre by in June in Plymouth.

anyone fancies Shaftsbury production but may not fancy going on to see TWO with their own, please email me, I can send shorter the message out to see if there is production by a anyone else who fancies going. Going different playwright at the beginning to productions as a group makes it the Kate McCarthy,

attend Craft for Crafters at from Westpoint, but sadly Covid stopped members always welcome. us from going. We look forward to come along and join us. the next event at Westpoint in Kate McCarthy, Convener September.

small workshop showing us the basics of who Calligraphy, this will be later in the company in a Wednesday of the month. Our next lovely relaxing meeting will be on Wednesday 6th atmosphere. Some of us had tickets April in Room 6 at The Manor House 3.30pm. 1.30 New Just

